In answer to a stion from the committee, Mr. Hackett Said he did not think the Navy Department would reduce the case. did not think the Navy Department would reduce the wages of bricklayers if the union scale had fallen instead of advanced, and he was inclined to think that the workmen had entered into a contract at $4 a day when they went to work. He promised, however, to give the matter careful consideration.

FUNERAL OF MAJOR BARTLETT. Impressive Services at St. Albans Church This Morning.

The funeral of the late Major Henry Anthony Bartlett, U. S. Marine Corps, retired, took place at 11 o'clock this morning from St. Albans' Church, Mount is Albans. The services, which were rief and impressive, were conducted by ev. George C. Bratenahl, pastor of the hurch, and a brother-in-law of Major Sartlett. The funeral cortege was escorted to the National Cemetery at Arlington a company of marines from the navy

The services at the grave were simple for funerals of retired officers of the army or navy. The casket, covered with the American flag, was lowered into the the American flag, was lowered into the grave, and the company of marines fired a volley in honor of the deceased officer. Taps were sounded by the bugler. The active pallbearers were six noncommissioned officers of the Marine Corps. The honorary pallbearers were selected from among Major Bartlett's personal friends of the officers of the Marine Corps.

The Clearing-up Week of the Season

We Inventory Saturday Night.

Before we close the books it is our determination to make a final clearance all through the house-reserving nothing that belongs to this season; sacrificing everything that belongs to the spring and summer stocks. For you know that, here at least, to carry nothing over is a rule that is strictly enforced. For a week, then, we shall eschew conservatism, and recklessly reduce prices-disregarding every consideration save Clearance-fully and complete. That's the purpose and the scope of this special sale. The details will astonish you!

Choice of Mens' Suits $5.00.

Two or three Suits of this lot; half dozen of that-and so on through the stock, make up a tableful of Suits for choice all at this price. Beats any half-price selling ever done. There are Suits that are worth three and four times the special price. There are Pancy Cheviots, Worsteds, Cassimeres—Plain Cheviots and Plain Serges—Oxfords. There are Single Breasted Sacks and Double Breasted Sacks and English Cutaways. Some of the Double Breasted Serges are faced with silk. They are all Suits of OUR REGULAR stock-and all this season's.

THERE ARE NOT ALL SIZES. Please understand that, so there will be no disappointment. If your size IS among them you certainly get the greatest bargain of many a season.
